

Core Values Inventory

What values or principles define who you are as a person? Think about what type of values you hope to pass along to your family or have others recognize about you. What foundational principles guide your behavior or decision-making? Please list these values in the wide columns of the table below. You do not need to fill the table.

Which of the above values define the SWCD or do you think are the reasons your peers elected you to represent them in the SWCD? Please place a check mark in the narrow columns of the above table behind those values or principles that should/do also define the SWCD.

Are there other Core Values that should/do define the SWCD that are not necessarily defining principles for you? Please list them below.

Finally, for all of the Core Values that you have identified as indicative of the SWCD, please place a number next to each value that represents its relative priority – #1 being the most important/defining and so on.
